

Amendments to the Specification:

Please replace the paragraph beginning at page 2, line 7, with the following:

Router 108 is connected to a plurality of access points 116 through wired connections 120. Access points 116 are effectively fixed devices which enable a roaming device 124 to communicate with LAN 104. That is, access ~~points~~ points 116 are fixed in desired locations associated with LAN 104 to support communications between roaming device 124 and LAN 104. Access points 116 may be an Aironet series access points available from Cisco Technology, Inc., of San Jose, California, although it should be understood that access points may be substantially any suitable access points.